SAVIA FLOW TOUR

Savia

LIVE

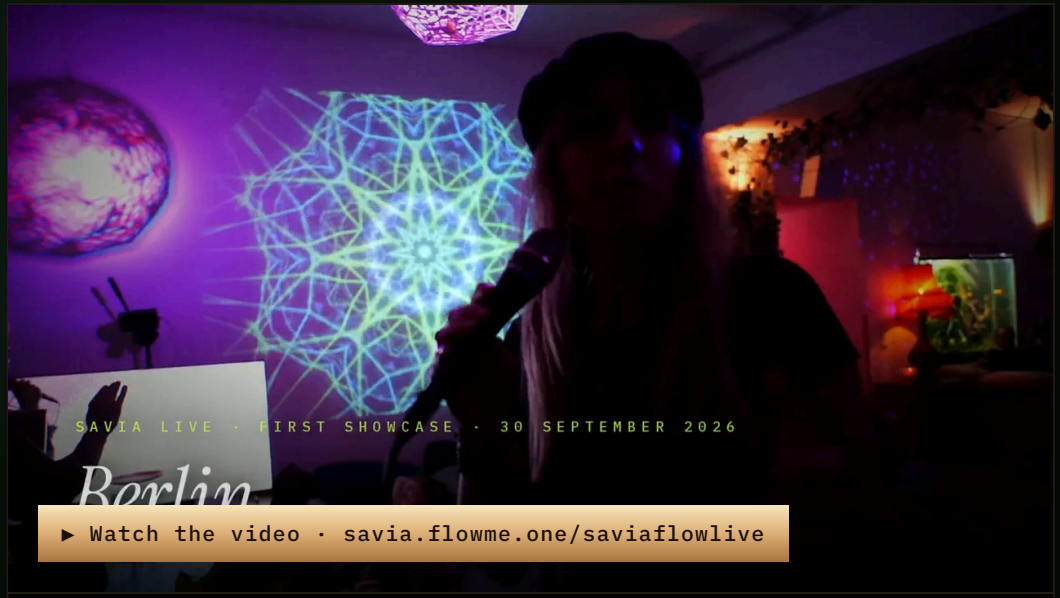

A live audiovisual experience where voice, movement, touch and plants paint the room in sound and light, and the audience plays it with us.

First showcase · Berlin, 30 September 2026 Steph and Marie, in their own words

A live show and a tool that turn voice, movement, touch and plants into sound and colour. Created for entertainment, the stage and music and dance education, it makes learning simple and engaging.

We created it collaboratively during an artist residency, and that experience continues to shape how we understand our work: deeply meaningful music meeting visuals, education, live art and dance.

Where we are now

30 SEPTEMBER 2026
BERLIN

First showcase

Our first showcase, in the Uhu event space in Berlin. Steph showed the software, Marie explained the colour system and performed a DJ set and a piano concert, and everyone else was invited to sing and dance with the software.

SEPTEMBER 2026
HIRSCHWANG, AUSTRIA

Where it started

At the Artizen residency in the Valley of the Commons we made Savia and the show together: music, visuals and teaching in one set.

ON THE BENCH

Still in the very beginning

We keep developing the tool: new pictures for the voice, movement through the camera, and our own sensors. India, Tulum and Miami are next on the route.

TRY SAVIA LIVE NOW!

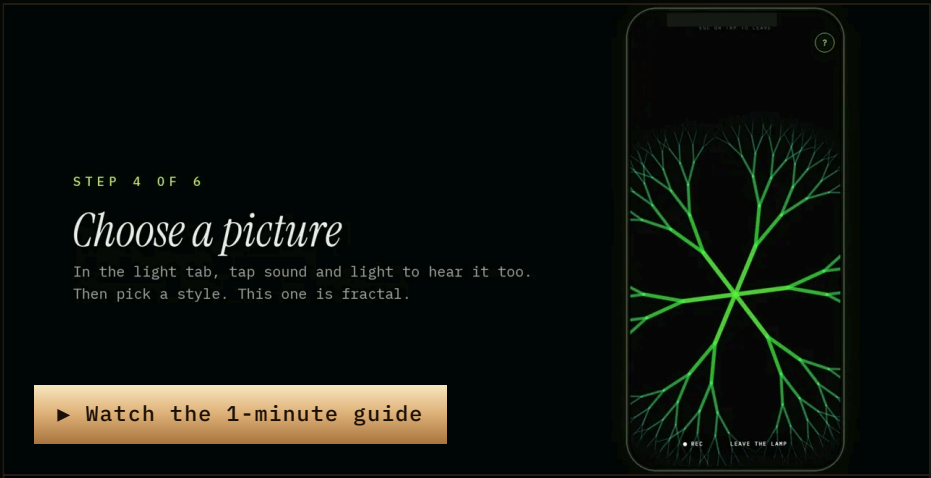

One link. Many signals.

Savia opens from a link on any phone or laptop, with nothing to install. It reads every source we bring on stage and turns it into sound and light. You can try it yourself right now, with no hardware.

- Voice through the microphone
- Movement through the camera
- Touch a hand, a leaf, a controller
- MIDI from Touch Me or a keyboard
- The phone itself, moving
- Plants through the cable

1. Open it in Brave or Chrome, on a laptop or a phone. On an iPhone, voice and camera work in Safari too.
2. Tap Open Savia Live below. It opens in a new tab, ready to listen.
3. Press ▶ play and say yes when the browser asks for the microphone. Nothing leaves your device.
4. Sing. Every note gets its own colour, and lamp fills the whole screen with it.

How to play Savia Live · one minute, step by step

WHAT YOU'RE BOOKING

Three ways to bring Savia to your people

For festivals, live show productions, educational institutions and conventions.

THE SHOW 01

A visual sound journey

A live performance where the visuals are drawn directly by the music and the voice, with deeply meaningful music written by Marie Chain.

YOUR VISITORS PLAY 02

An interactive experience

Your guests make visuals by singing, and make sound with touch and movement. The audience becomes part of the instrument.

EDUCATION 03

Music theory you can see

For kids and students: music theory explained visually and playfully, in a way that is easy to understand. Every note has a colour, so a chord becomes a picture.

WHAT IT IS

Anything alive can play

THE SIGNAL

Anything alive

A voice, a moving body, a hand, even a plant. Savia reads it and turns it into music.

THE PICTURE

Sound becomes colour

Every note has its own colour. The screens behind us are drawn by what we are playing, live.

THE ROOM

You can play it

Hands on the plants, voices in the mic. The audience can be part of the instrument.

WHERE IT'S GOING

What you can expect

Book the show, or bring Savia into your festival, venue or school. This is what it looks like, now and next.

A show that travels light

Savia runs from a link on a laptop or phone, with nothing to install, so it plays on your screens and through your sound system.

WITH YOUR PEOPLE

Everyone can play

Your visitors sing, move and touch to make the visuals themselves. In a school, the same set becomes a lesson where music theory turns into colour.

NEXT

Kits that stay

We are building our own sensors and devices that work without internet, so Savia can stay with your venue, school or festival after we leave.

SAVIA FLOW TOUR

Where we're headed

We played our first showcase in Berlin on 30 September. Next: India, Tulum, Miami, and wherever you'd like to bring us. The dates are still being set, so the route can still include you.

- Hirschwang, Austria · where it started
- Berlin · first showcase, 30 Sep
- India
- Tulum
- Miami

Already on our route? If we're already coming to your city, our travel is covered, so we can offer a lighter fee. Tap a city to start a booking there.

WHO YOU'RE BOOKING

Steph & Marie on stage

SAVIA · THE CONSOLE · MOVEMENT

Steph Ferrera

@steph_ferrera_coatl ↗

Created Savia, the console that turns every signal into sound and colour, and made the camera an instrument.

MUSIC · VOICE

Marie Chain

@marie_chain ↗

Performs the music set: deeply meaningful music, with music theory and creative visual ideas woven in. Her voice is what draws the picture behind her.

MUSES & CO-CREATORS

Via & Andrés

The live-painted visuals, the Touch Me, and the colour-to-sound flow that started it.
